

Commonwealth of Dominica

Office of the Maritime Administrator

- TO: ALL SHIPOWNERS, OPERATORS, MASTERS, OFFICERS, MARINE PERSONNEL, TRAINING INSTITUTIONS, FACILITIES AND TRAINING PROVIDERS, MANNING AGENCIES, AND RECOGNIZED ORGANIZATIONS
- SUBJECT: Examination System for Merchant Marine Personnel
- REFERENCE: CDP-300, Requirements for Merchant Marine Personnel Certification
- PURPOSE: This Circular addresses the examination system to reflect Parts A and B of the Code of the International Convention on Standards of Training, Certification and Watchkeeping (STCW), as amended in 1995.
- APPLICATION: The Dominica examination system applies to all personnel who are candidates for Dominica certification by examination as officers, ratings, or special qualifications.

Background:

The Commonwealth of Dominica uses the following mariner certification tracks:

Approved Marine Education and Training Candidates for certificates as deck officer, engineer officer and radio operator are required to have completed “approved education and training”. This combined with sea-service of not less than one year as part of an approved program, which includes on-board training that meets the requirements of the respective tables in the STCW Code and is documented in an approved Training Record Book. Such mariners must have performed, during the required sea-service, watchkeeping duties under the supervision of a qualified shipboard instructor/officer. The Administration reserves the right to require a written or oral examination to all candidates.

In-service Training - Candidates for certificates as deck officer, engineer officer and radio operator are required to have completed an “in-service program of training, assessment of competence as prescribed in Section A-I/6 of the STCW Code while either on-board ship or ashore. The Maritime Administration will allow in-service training and assessment programs if organizations use the Administration provided Training Record Book and receive approval of their program through the Administration or a “Recognized Organization”. In-service Training can be best described as an “apprentice program” and when combined with specific professional development courses as prescribed by STCW, can be the tool for a mariner to enhance his/her certificate of competence or license. The Administration reserves the right to require a written or oral examination to all candidates.

Endorsements - Equivalent certification in accordance with regulation I/10 of the STCW Convention. A person holding a valid license or certificate issued by a Party fully applying the provisions of the International Convention on Standards of Training and Watchkeeping currently in force, as amended, and who is not otherwise disqualified in the opinion of the Maritime Administrator or Deputy Maritime Administrator to whom application is made shall be eligible for an equivalent Dominica License or Certificate, subject to proof of physical fitness and adequate English language ability. The Administration reserves the right to require a written or oral examination to all candidates.

Examinations – All others, after demonstrating basic qualifications with respect to age, medical fitness, experience, approved education and training, desiring a license or certificate shall pass such written, oral and physical examinations as shall from time to time be required by the Maritime Administrator or Deputy Maritime Administrator to whom application is made. Certain skills will be required to be demonstrated and signed off in a TRB or approved course completion certificates presented attesting to demonstration of the skills required by STCW.

The publication, “Requirements for Merchant Marine Personnel Certification (CDP-300)”, contains the prerequisites for certification either by examination or by equivalency. Candidates are urged to review this publication prior to making any application for examination.
